Gallery

Endangered Planet exists to raise the awareness of the general public to environmental concerns of the earth and its inhabitants and to promote the preservation of the world's cultures. These goals are achieved through educational events, web site communications and the sale of items involving Endangered Planet concepts.

The Endangered Planet Gallery showcases these ideas and artworks in a continually evolving display.

The Need for Conservation Awareness, Preservation and Protection

Blue whale populations once numbered 300,000 individuals.

Whaling records reveal that over 29,000 blue whales were slaughtered in the Antarctic alone in a single year. Today researchers estimate the total world population of blue whales to be less than 10,000 individuals. It is difficult to imagine that in this day and age the world's largest living creature is now under new threats of extinction...
